One of the most important agerations affecting officers which will come into operation at once is in connection with the "Weekly Spiritual and Financial Report forms." Instead of as in the pest Printed alips with the amended rule, to pasts into the rula book, can be obtained free by applying to the D. have to regret is that the Captain is elways with us in this great work.

This report will be upon an altogether new basis, and is a much fairer way to all conterned, abowing in fact an average week's figure made up from the reports sent in to the D. O. by the officer for the reporting weekly both to Hea pon each corps under bie charge.

For instance, if for five weeks in May a Captain reports visiting as follows:-let week, 20 hours; 2nd week, 18 hours; 3rd week, 10 hours; 4th week, 15 hours; 5th week, 10 noors, these figures will all be added together, the result 86 hours will be divided by five (the number of weeks in 110 mouth) and the result, 17 hours, will be the average number of hours the officer has visited each week in the month. Each set of figures reported upon by the officer will be so dealt with and in this manner his work will be fairly represented to Hendquarters.

The Divinioual Officer will keep copies of the reports they send to Headquarters, and from them will cand monthly a report to his officers showing by comparison with other months whether the work in their other months whether the work in Linear corps has gone upor down in any particular point; this form will be called the "up and down form," and will be exceedingly useful to officers in showing them bow their corps stands.

The Triumph of the Cross.

CAPT. LOUIS COWAR, PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE

The evening shadows lightly fell,
The room was lit with fire-light glow,
A young girl sat in thoughtful mood,
With shades of sorrow on her brow.

An open book upon her knee, The words she read had caused th gloom,

"If any man will follow me

The way is far too hard for me".
"I any take not up his cross
My servant he can nover be,"

"But, Lord, 'twould break my loved ones

Her glance fell on the open page, She read the Lord's own word so plain

"If any one will not forsake
Their parents, sisters, brothers, friend
B'en life itself for Jegue sake,
A Christices death will be their end."

The shades of evening darker fell,

The fire glow made the room seem light. The cost seemed greater than before, How could she leave that home so bright

She saw a picture on the wall. Though long it had been hanging there, Its meaning she'd not known at all.

It was the crucifizion scene,
The Lamb of God upon the tree,
And underneath the words inscribed,
"He bled and suffered here for thes. heart, I cennot bear to cause them pain."

How much she used to Him, her Lore
"I gladly give Thee all," she cried,
"De it according to Thy word."

Her father opened now the door. His fond gaze fell upon har face, She was his darling, idolized, None was to him so full of grace.

"My darling, see what I have got, Our kind friend, Mrs. Bobert C-A grand party is going to have, A card she sent to you and me. She faltered for a moment, then She pointed to the Saviour's deal 'I've promised I will live for Him As long as He shall lend me bree
